GOOD THINGS TO EAT

. . . and how to make them

DO you know the secret of Chocolate Cake, rich and delicate in flavor, soft and silky in texture? Do you know the secret of Gingerbread that has the penetrating aroma, the true, deep, rich, golden color?

If you know these things, you know Baking Soda and the part it plays in making baking day a pleasure with success assured.

Chocolate and molasses are only two of many cooking ingredients that need Baking Soda. Baking Soda acts directly with the acid in them as soon as the product is in the oven, softening the sharp flavor, bringing out the delicious sweetness, and at the same time producing gas to leaven the product. With one sure action Baking Soda mellows and leavens.

When you read over this booklet you will find a number of fine old recipes. To satisfy the desire for something different, there are some new recipes created by the Test Kitchen, unusual recipes that you will like to try. The results will measure up to your usual high standard.

Your baking is going to be good. The foods that depend so much on color and aroma for appeal are going to ring true. Try a cake today, try a hot bread tomorrow. You will be more than satisfied. You will be proud.

Sincerely yours,

Martha Lee Anderson

SOUR MILK, BUTTERMILK AND BAKING SODA

SOUR milk is best for baking purposes when it has reached the clabbered stage. The curd is thick and heavy and the whey has not separated to any great extent. It should be kept in a cool place in a clean covered container. If milk is placed in the refrigerator as soon as it reaches the clabbered stage, it will remain in this condition for five or six days.

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking soda with 1 cup clabbered milk will leaven 2 cups of flour.

Buttermilk can be substituted for clabbered milk in any recipe.

1 cup of heavy sour cream can be substituted for $\frac{1}{3}$ cup butter and $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk in any sour milk recipe. 1 cup of thin sour cream can be substituted for 3 tablespoons butter and $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk in any sour milk recipe.

In these baking soda recipes, all measurements are level. All recipes have been carefully tested, and for the best results, the directions must be followed closely. To measure baking soda, heap the spoon and then level off with the straight edge of a knife or against the edge of the opening on the top of the package. Baking soda should not be mixed with the sour milk, because in this way some of the gas that should go to leaven the product is lost. Always sift baking soda with the flour.

For the majority of the recipes, all-purpose or family flour should be used. But for cakes, a cake or pastry flour is recommended. The more delicate gluten assures a more tender crumb.

F RUIT JUICES AND VINEGAR

CITROUS fruit juices and vinegar play an important part in the flavor and general quality of many recipes. These acid juices are used in two general ways in baking soda recipes.

1. They are used to curdle sweet milk so that it can be satisfactorily substituted for sour milk. For example, 1 cup sour milk will neutralize $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking soda. $1\frac{1}{3}$ tablespoons (4 teaspoons) vinegar will neutralize $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking soda. To substitute sweet milk and vinegar for sour milk, remove 4 teaspoons of milk from 1 cup of milk and replace with 4 teaspoons of vinegar. Mix well and let stand for a few minutes at room temperature until curdled. Use exactly as sour milk.

These common acid juices can be used for this purpose in the following proportions and these amounts are sufficient for $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon of baking soda:

$1\frac{1}{3}$ tablespoons vinegar (cider or distilled)	$\frac{1}{4}$ cup grapefruit juice (fresh or canned)
$1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons lemon juice (fresh or canned)	$\frac{3}{4}$ cup orange juice (fresh or canned)

When used in these proportions, the acid juices do not flavor the baked product.

2. Citrous fruit juices and vinegar are often used as part of the liquid in recipes, because they produce novel and desirable characteristics . . . an unusually delicate white crumb in plain products, a thin light brown crust, a fresh distinctive flavor. The mixtures are not as rich as those using milk alone. Baking soda is needed to neutralize a portion of the acid juice so that both leavening and flavor result from the use of these ingredients. For example, if the juice of a lemon (3 tablespoons) is used in a recipe, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking soda is needed to neutralize $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons of juice (see table above) and the remaining juice flavors the product.

HOW TO BAKE

Flour—Use the kind of flour specified in the recipe. To substitute pastry flour for all-purpose flour, use 2 additional tablespoons of flour for each cup required; to substitute all-purpose flour for pastry flour, remove 2 tablespoons from each cup required.

Fat—Solid fats can be used interchangeably. Melted fats or oils should not be used in recipes specifying creaming of the shortening.

Sugar—Finely granulated sugar gives best results. Brown sugar must be soft, moist and free from lumps. Sift before measuring.

Eggs—Use medium size eggs, weighing about 2 ounces each. Weigh eggs if variation is great and use according to weight.

Liquid—Dried or evaporated milk diluted according to the directions on the can can be substituted for fresh milk. $\frac{7}{8}$ cup water can be substituted for 1 cup of milk.

Measuring—Use standard measuring equipment: a $\frac{1}{2}$ pint cup marked in 4ths and 3rds; a set of standard measuring spoons, consisting of a tablespoon, teaspoon, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon. Use level measurements.

Mixing—Distinguishing characteristics of biscuits, muffins and cakes depend on the methods of mixing and baking. Directions for these methods are plainly set down in each recipe. Success depends on good ingredients correctly combined.

Baking—Oven regulators and thermometers safeguard baking. Cakes peak on top and dry near the edges in too hot an oven. Hot breads dry out in too cool an oven.

Care after baking—Hot breads should be served immediately or kept hot in a napkin or warming oven until eaten. Let cakes stand in pan on cooling rack for 5 minutes after baking; then turn out on rack and finish cooling before frosting. Cool cookies before putting away.

KITCHEN TESTED METHODS

WHEN parboiling dried beans for baking, the addition of $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon of baking soda to each 2 cups soaked beans makes the beans tender in a shorter time. When baked, the beans have a much sweeter flavor than those parboiled in plain water. All dried legumes such as lima, kidney or navy beans, and peas, have a better flavor if treated in this manner.

Scalloped potatoes or other scalloped dishes are sometimes spoiled in appearance by curdling of the milk. $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon baking soda to each pint of milk prevents the curdling.

In the preparation of hominy, use 1 ounce of baking soda (2 level tablespoons) and 3 pints of water to each pound of field corn. Dissolve baking soda and add corn. Bring corn to boiling point, cover and simmer $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours. Hulls and black eyes can be removed by rubbing between the hands. 6 or 7 washings will remove all traces of alkali.

When washing spinach, add a small amount of baking soda (about $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon for each peck of spinach) to the last rinse water. Cook as usual. The vegetable will retain its lovely fresh color.

When stewing rhubarb or gooseberries, add $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon baking soda for each 2 cups. This reduces the quantity of sugar required by $\frac{1}{3}$. For each 2 cups of rhubarb, or gooseberries, use $\frac{2}{3}$ cup sugar in place of the usual cup.

If the skin clings to peaches or apricots when peeling for canning, prepare a solution of $\frac{1}{2}$ cup baking soda and 2 gallons of water. Bring to boiling point and, while actively boiling, immerse fruit (using a wire basket) until skin is loosened. Remove fruit, wash at once in clear water and remove skins by rubbing.

When baking ham or pork chops in milk, the addition of $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon baking soda to each pint of milk prevents the curdling, which so often detracts from the appetizing appearance of the meat.

When boiling corned beef, add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon baking soda for each pound of beef. This will improve the color and flavor of the meat. Cabbage and other vegetables can be cooked in the same water without becoming dark or slimy.

Clean all meat, as soon as unwrapped, with a baking soda solution (1 teaspoon of baking soda to 2 cups of water). This removes foreign matter and dried blood. Put on a clean plate and place in refrigerator.

After drawing fowl, wash well, both inside and out, with a baking soda solution (1 tablespoon to 2 quarts of water). Let solution run through the bird several times. Rinse well with clear water. Pat dry with clean towel.

Clean fish, both inside and out, in a baking soda solution (1 tablespoon to 2 quarts of water). Dip entire fish in the solution; wash quickly and rinse in clear water. Dry immediately and store in cold place. Before opening, wash clams and oysters with a brush dipped in the baking soda solution. Fresh shrimp and other shellfish should be washed well in the same strength baking soda solution before cooking.

When preparing cream of tomato soup from canned tomato soup or home-made tomato puree, add $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon baking soda to each cup of soup or puree. This prevents curdling when the milk is added.

V EGETABLE COOKERY

To preserve the fresh green color of beans, peas, and greens, a pinch of baking soda, (a pinch is less than $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon) should be added to the cooking water.

Red vegetables will be most pleasing in appearance if a little vinegar is added to the cooking water.

A little vinegar in the cooking water will keep white vegetables from yellowing.

In the case of old carrots, a pinch of baking soda will shorten the cooking time.
